

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A synthetic tetrapeptide having an amino acid sequence, Glycine-Proline-Arginine-Proline (GPRP) has pro-inflammatory effects on human fibroblastic cells, including synovial cells. An amide analog of GPRP is ineffective in inducing, or effective in causing a loss of, pro-inflammatory effects.